

Event Reflections – Bucks County Power Exchange, Baring your Back(bone)

A big thank you to the Bucks County Power Exchange group for inviting us to speak on “Baring your Back(bone), strength in submission”. This was a well attended group, with 25+ members meeting at a local restaurant. Our discussion was focused on how submissives and slaves can balance modern day independence and tap into personal strengths to support their desire for submission and providing of service. Healthy submission includes being empowered to do as you need and able to make choices between conflicting priorities and influences that often contend with our time, resources, and desires.
